Thursday 18 May 2017

Health Literacy and Social Mobilization to achieve the SDGs

To mark the 20th Anniversary of the Alliance for Health Promotion we are organizing a conference on Thursday, 18 May 2017 with the following objectives:

- ❖ To take forward the key messages of the international conferences held in Shanghai (9GCHP of WHO) and in Canada (6th Global Forum on Health Promotion)
- ❖ To enhance awareness on the importance of Health Literacy and Social Mobilization in promoting Healthy Cities and Healthy Communities
- ❖ To facilitate exchange of views between policy-makers and practitioners, governments and civil society organisations and,
- ❖ To explore how Civil Society can make a meaningful contribution to the achievement of the SDGs, so that Global “Dreams” become Local Realities.

Speakers:

- Nadia ISLER, Director of the SDG Lab at the Office of the Director-General of the United Nations Office at Geneva
- Representative of the Geneva State Council
- Pascal HAEFLIGER, in charge of Prevention and Health Promotion, State of Geneva
